An official publication of Indian Association of Cardiovascular Thoracic Anaesthesia (IACTA)

Annals of Cardiac Anaesthesia is the official journal of Indian Association of Cardiovascular and Thoracic Anaesthesia (IACTA). The society was established in 1997. The society has had eminent editors of its official voice mouth - Annals of Cardiac Anaesthesia (ACA), which have helped to improve the academic standards and visibility of the journal to national and international standards. The first editor of the Journal was Dr. Yatin Mehta, followed by Dr. Deepak Tempe, Dr. Murali Chakraworthy, Dr. Praveen Kumar Neema, Dr. Poonam Malhotra Kapoor and presently, Dr. Prabhat Tewari is chief editor of the Journal.

The Official publication of IACTA is into its 18th year and is a professional, peer reviewed journal. It endeavors to cover all aspects of cardiovascular Diseases including original articles of basic research and clinical findings, editorials, reviews, interesting images in cardiovascular medicine and transesophageal echocardiography, letter to editor, video commentaries and case reports. The journal is a quarterly published online within the first two days of January, April, July and October each year in English language. The journal addresses different aspects of Cardiac Anaesthesia like difficult airway and resuscitation, inhalational anaesthetics, haemodynamic monitoring, simulation based training and teaching, cardiac surgery, ECMO and heart failure, pediatric cardiology and molecular genetics etc.

The aim and objectives of the entire team is to publish scientific content relevant to the prevailing times of the highest standards. The ultimate aim of the journal is to provide scientific literature to the readers aimed at improving cardiac health practices amongst anesthetists, intensivists and surgeons. The journal is published also in print on its official website (www.annals.in) and also has a newly created blog (blog.annals.in).

Journal Ethics

Wolters Kluwer and Journal/Association are committed to meeting and upholding standards of ethical behavior at all stages of the publication process. We follow closely the industry associations, such as the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE), International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE) and World Association of Medical Editors (WAME), that set standards and provide guidelines for best practices in order to meet these requirements.

Open Access Publication and Creative Commons Licensing

This is an open access journal, and articles are distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution-Non-Commercial-Share Alike 4.0 License, which allows others to remix, tweak, and build upon the work non-commercially, as long as appropriate credit is given, and the new creations are licensed under the identical terms.

Digital Archiving

Wolters Kluwer Medknow provides for long-term digital preservation through two primary partnerships, Portico and CLOCKSS. Portico is a leading digital preservation service worldwide. The content is preserved as an archival version and is not publicly accessible via Portico, but is provided when required under specific conditions, such as discontinuation of the collection or catastrophic failure of the website. CLOCKSS will enable any library to maintain their own archive of content from Wolters Kluwer Medknow and other publishers, with minimal technical effort and using cheaply available hardware.

Ahead of Print policy

Articles published online under the Ahead of Print model are considered published and can be cited and quoted using the DOI as the reference source. Wolters Kluwer Medknow has a policy that changes will not be made after publication of an article without following accepted procedures for making corrections to the scientific record.

Advertisements: While advertisements are crucial to this journal to be able to keep all content free for everyone, ethical considerations are in place to ensure the integrity of the journal and its content:

Online access: The journal's full text is online at www.annals.in. The journal would allow free access (Open Access) to its contents, which is likely to attract more readers and citations to articles published in ACA. Authors do not have to pay for submission, processing or publication of articles in ACA, articles can be submitted online from www.journalonweb.com/aca
